Ex-DOJ chief Perez faces extortion raps

Finally, Ombudsman acts on $2-M bribe complaint

By DJ Yap

THE OFFICE OF THE Ombudsman is set to press graft and extortion charges against former Justice Secretary Hernando Perez in connection with the $2-million bribery complaint lodged against him by former Manila Rep. Mark Jimenez.

Ombudsman Merceditas Gutierrez, who was a justice undersecretary under Perez, recommended the filing of charges against her former boss after a panel of prosecutors found probable cause to indict Perez.

Joining Perez as respondents in the complaint for graft, extortion and falsification of public documents are his wife Rosario, brother-in-law Ramon Arceo and business associate Ernest Escaler.

Arceo is a former director of United Coconut Planters' Bank and executive vice president of PCIBank, while Escaler is a former consultant of Hong Kong's Coutts Bank for the Philippines.

Gutierrez said the case would be filed with the Sandiganbayan within five days.

In a 66-page resolution, graft prosecutors said there was sufficient evidence to establish that Perez and company had committed "illegal acts," based on bank documents presented by Jimenez before the body.

The documents included the $2-million deposit that Jimenez had wired to Escaler's account in

'Nicole' asks SC: Declare VFA illegal

By Armand N. Nocum and Gil C. Cabacungan Jr.

THE LAWYER OF RAPE VICtim "Nicole" has asked the Supreme Court to declare as unconstitutional a provision in the Visiting Forces Agreement (VFA) and the controversial transfer of US Marine Lance Cpl. Daniel Smith to the custody of the US Embassy.

In a petition, lawyer Evalyn G. Ursua said she wanted to register "how public respondents shamelessly surrendered our nation's sovereignty and dignity by entering into the questioned agreements and by turning over Smith to the US Embassy."

Makati Judge Benjamin Pozon convicted Smith on Dec. 4 of raping Nicole and ordered the Marine detained at the Makati City Jail.

Named respondents in the petition for certiorari were Smith, Executive Secretary Eduardo Ermita, Foreign Secretary Alberto Romulo, Justice Secretary Raul Gonzalez, Interior Secretary Ronaldo Puno and Presidential Legal Counsel Sergio Apostol.

"Unless the court declares the transfer unconstitutional and illegal, the general public will lose faith in the independence, integrity and competence of our courts. Worse, it may lead the public to lose faith altogether in the rule of law," Ursua said.

She said the Cabinet officials "committed grave abuse of discretion" in entering into an agreement last Dec. 22 with US Ambassador Kristie Kenney. The agreement was subsequently used as the basis for the transfer of Smith to the US Embassy.

The agreement, Ursua said, was invalid in "effecting the release of Daniel Smith without court authority and in turning him over to the US Embassy."

SPECIAL REPORT

AS HE PREPARED TO LEAVE THE Department of National Defense last November, then Defense Secretary Avelino Cruz asked concerned citizens to closely guard the P70-billion fund that will be released for the Armed Forces of the Philippines' latest modernization plan called the Capability Upgrade Program.

To be sure, reforms designed to safeguard AFP funds are already being put in place. There is the 10-point Philippine Defense Reform Program meant to improve DND and AFP operations and manpower. A defense acquisition committee and internal audit offices have been established. Representatives of the private sector, such as the Makati Business Club and the Bishops-Businessmen's Conference, have been allowed to observe bidding procedures. Measures to streamline procurement procedures throughout the AFP are being implemented.

Despite these reforms, government auditors and defense and budget officials worry that a culture of inefficiency and corruption continues to plague the AFP. A string of problematic transactions illustrates why they say reforms in the AFP are going to be an uphill battle:

RP assures Asian allies of vigilance

By Christine O. Avendaño

PRESIDENT MACAPAGAL-ARroyo yesterday assured visiting Asian leaders of her country's vigilance against security threats, citing Saturday's military operation that killed six militants, one of whom belonged to the al-Qaida-linked Jemaah Islamiyah.

The President, who flew to Jolo yesterday to commend the Armed Forces of the Philippines for the successful operation against the Abu Sayyaf and the JI, said the encounter "only proves that these terrorist elements have nowhere to hide and are, in fact, already doomed to annihilation."

She issued the statement as delegations to the 12th Association of Southeast Asian Nations (Asean), as well as the group's East Asian dialogue partners began arriving for the five-day event beginning Wednesday in Cebu City. (See story at left.)

No-fly zone declared over Asean summit venues

By Jhunnex Napallacan
Inquirer Visayas

CEBU CITY—THE ARMED Forces Central Command (Centcom) has declared a 32-kilometer no-fly zone over the venues of the regional Asian summit and a 70-km space restriction zone from the Mactan Benito Ebuen Air Base in Lapulapu City.

Centcom spokesperson Lt. Col. Jefferson Omandam said the declaration would be enforced during the Jan. 10-15 meetings of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and its dialogue partners.

Omandam said the no-fly zone would cover the airport area and the different venues of the summit, such as Shangri-La's Mactan Island Resort in Lapulapu City, Cebu International Convention Center (CICC) in Mandaue City, Waterfront Cebu City Hotel and Casino, and Marco Polo Plaza Cebu in Cebu City.

Regular air traffic at the airports will not be affected but commercial and private planes will have to follow all instructions upon entering the air space restricted zone.

In case an aircraft has radio problems and cannot respond to instructions, the task group will immediately send up aircraft to escort the plane.

The air space restriction zone will allow the military to detect any unauthorized aircraft and provide ground personnel time to react to intrusions.

Omandam said the Philippine Air Force will intercept any aircraft entering or already within the restricted zone that cannot be identified as "friendly."

While Philippine officials have declared that it was all systems go for this week's meeting of Asian leaders, the CICC is far from finished.

As rain pelted yesterday, the roof of the new P1.2-billion CICC did not leak, as it did following the abrupt cancellation in December of the summit meetings.

Nuestro Padre Jesus Nazareno

Anyone who gazes intently upon this image of Christ will be irresistibly moved with pity. And if he contemplates further, Christ will seem to tell him, "See how I suffer carrying this heavy cross after having been flogged. It is not of my own making that I undergo these sufferings. It is for you, so you could be reconciled with our Father. This cross is made heavy by your sins. Will you ease my burden by atoning for your sins?"

Perhaps Christ will also tell him, "If you wish to become a true Christian, take up your cross and follow me." But in the same breath, He assures him "Tell me your troubles, your needs, and problems, and I am here to help you".

The image of the Nuestro Padre Jesus Nazareno has inspired countless number of people to nurture a devotion to this image of Christ. Faith in Him, reinforced by unceasing prayers, have intensified and preserved such devotion.

There is no definite account as to the origin of the statue. It was reportedly the work of an unidentified Mexican artist who chose to render the image in dark [illegible], similar to his own skin tone. Eventually it was referred to as the Black Nazarene because when it arrived in the Philippines the color turned darker. But this endeared it all the more to the Filipinos who seemed to have [illegible] affinity to images they could relate with, such as those of the Virgin of Antipolo and the Our Lady of Peñafrancia, among others.

The statue, entrusted to an unknown Recollect priest, was brought across the Pacific Ocean aboard a galleon that anchored in Manila at an undetermined date. As the first group of Recollect Priests (the priests now in charge of San Sebastian Church and San Sebastian College in Manila) came in the year 1606, it has been assumed that the statue also arrived either on that year or a few years later.

Based on writings of the [illegible] Recollect Father Juan dela Concepcion, OAR, the statue of the Nazarene remained for sometime in the hands of the Recollect Fathers. "In the Recollect Church, the image of the Nazarene spawned a following. It was a devotion that got extensively propagated among the people of Manila. The Confraternity of our Lord Jesus of Nazareth was founded on April 20, 1621. It was doubtlessly the most prosperous confraternity in the whole days" (Historia de Filipinas, 1788).

Fr. Jose Garcia de S. Lorenzo Martir, OAR, in an unpublished report "El Convento de Recoletos de S. Nicholas de Tolentino de Manila," said this confraternity was officially authorized by a Bull of Pope Innocent X, expedited in Rome on April 20, 1650. He also reported that the Nazarene was enshrined in the special chapel adjacent to the church of the Recollects in Intramuros.

In the absence of any written reference to the exact year of transfer of the image to Quiapo, the pamphlet "Brief History of the Church of Quiapo and its Miraculous Image Jesus Nazareno (Manila, 1937) written by Rev. Fr. Vicente Cabupang, provided some clue. Taking its source the Cronicas de la Provincia de San Antonio, he wrote that before the second burning of the church in 1791 the image had already been enshrined in Quiapo.

Father Cabupang further wrote, that "the image was given to the church of Quiapo, according to the wish of the Archbishop of Manila, as said church was already under the charge of the secular clergy."

Meanwhile, Rev. Fr. Leonardo G. [illegible], Vice Chairman, Historical Research Committee, Archdiocese of Manila, stated in the 1984 Souvenir Program of the Quiapo Fiesta: "The Nuestro Padre Jesus Nazareno was blessed by Archbishop Basilio Sancho in the 18th Century and by Pope Pius VII in the 19th century. The Nazarene has since then [illegible] above the altar of the Quiapo church."

Thus, it may be inferred that Archbishop Sancho was the one referred to by Father Cabupang in connection with the transfer of the Nazarene. Archbishop Sancho served from 1767 to 1787. [illegible]
